HUMAN RESOURCES POLICY

HITECH is committed to the highest standards in human resources practices, aligned with national labour laws and international frameworks including IFC Performance Standards, Equator Principles IV, ILO Conventions, GIIP, UNGP, UNVP, and ISO 45001 and 14001:2015. This policy outlines HITECH's approach to fair employment, worker protections, development, and conduct.

This Policy is implemented through the HITECH Human Resources Policy Manual (HCC/HR/PM/001), applicable Conditions of Service and supporting HR policies and procedures. Where project-specific labour requirements apply, these shall be implemented to the extent applicable to HITECH's scope and contractual responsibilities.

- Employment and Retrenchment. HITECH applies fair, non-discriminatory hiring based on merit and business needs. In cases of retrenchment, the process is conducted transparently and lawfully, with respect for the affected personnel.
- Working Conditions and Rights. HITECH respects labour rights and provides decent working conditions. Employees shall not exceed 48 regular and 12 overtime hours per week, and must receive at least one day of rest every seven days. Wages meet or exceed legal minimums, and employees are entitled to leave as per national law. Women are actively encouraged to apply and are assured a safe, respectful workplace free from harassment or discrimination.
- Working Hours and Rest: HITECH will manage working hours, overtime and rest periods in accordance with applicable Nigerian labour requirements and the HITECH Human Resources Policy Manual, with appropriate oversight to prevent excessive working hours and fatigue.
- Child and Forced Labour. HITECH strictly prohibits the use of child, forced labour, human trafficking and coercive employment within its operations. Compliance with this policy is mandatory for all contractors, suppliers, partners and third parties.
- Training and Local Employment. HITECH provides appropriate induction, training and professional development to support workforce competence and career development. Where relevant to project commitments and local conditions, HITECH promotes local employment and skills development through appropriate recruitment, training and monitoring measures.
- Freedom of Association. HITECH respects the rights of workers to form or join workers' organisations, engage in collective bargaining and participate in lawful trade union activities, without retaliation or adverse treatment, in accordance with applicable law.
- Grievances and Conduct. HITECH maintains an accessible worker grievance mechanism, including confidential reporting channels where appropriate, protection against retaliation, documented follow-up and fair resolution in accordance with company procedures. Disciplinary processes shall respect fair hearing, proportionality and non-retaliation principles..
- HR Policy Framework: Employees shall be informed of applicable employment terms, rights and responsibilities through the HITECH Human Resources Policy Manual, applicable Conditions of Service, the Code of Conduct and supporting HR policies and procedures.
- Performance Management: Employees will receive periodic performance evaluations in accordance with the Human Resources Policy Manual to support performance, development and career planning.
- Third-Party Workers: HITECH will apply appropriate labour, grievance, welfare and occupational health and safety requirements to contracted and third-party workers within its control or contractual influence, and monitor compliance on a risk-based basis.

- Redundancy and Retrenchment: Where workforce reductions become necessary, HITECH will seek to avoid or minimise compulsory redundancies where reasonably practicable and will manage any redundancy process fairly, transparently and without discrimination, in accordance with applicable law and the HITECH Redundancy Policy (HCC/HR/POL/002).
- Monitoring and Compliance. HITECH will monitor implementation of its HR requirements through appropriate workforce records, grievance data, working-hours and payroll controls, training and workforce indicators, contractor labour oversight, and periodic compliance reviews.

This Human Resources policy is integral to HITECH's commitment to its employees and the ethical management of human capital. By adhering to these guidelines, HITECH aims to create a supportive, inclusive, and productive work environment that respects the rights and dignity of all employees.
